Hello LifePath Friends and Family!

It’s a yearly challenge for me to come up with a theme for our annual report. This will be my eighth one and I have to admit, I was drawing a blank. So Ann Marie and I decided to look through the photos we’ve collected over the past year to see if they gave us any ideas.

The answer jumped out right away. Just take a look at these pages. Without needing professional photographers, expensive equipment or Photoshop, our photos show people beaming with happiness. They show a lot more too – many of the individuals we serve are smiling and making people around them smile even though they face difficult challenges, physical pain and frustration every day. Their smiles show me that it really is possible to transcend our difficulties. In this way, the people we serve are some of the best role models in the world.

Some of the shots also show some of the great ideas our staff and supporters had to bring smiles to more faces: working with a police department to help an individual realize his dream of becoming an honorary officer; taking in a ballgame with friends at the IronPigs; and even bringing the snow inside so some seniors could build a snowman from the warmth of their living room!

One of our staff people seems to have started smiling a lot. It’s remarkable how it changes things. Not just for her, but for everyone she comes in contact with. I can only imagine that her positivity is improving the meetings she attends and creating better teamwork with her colleagues. Imagine how much better a day goes when your boss or someone you care about shows you that they’re happy.

I think we should all challenge ourselves to smile more – it’s one of those rare gifts that really does come right back to the giver. And here’s the pitch: study after study shows that giving increases your happiness. Win-win!

Please share a warm smile with me right now as we work together on making our individuals’ lives as happy as they can be.

Thank you!

Paul H. Coleman, LifePath Executive Director/CEO

“Every time you smile at someone, it is an action of love, a gift to that person, a beautiful thing.”

~ Mother Teresa

“I just like to smile! Smiling’s my favorite.”
